Market News

NEW YORK, May 23.—Optimistic trade prospects entertained by leaders of industry, further relaxation of money rates and prospective modification of the peace treaty were the most noteworthy contributions to today's active and strong stock market.

Until the final hour, when the upswing of prices became more general, the session was in most essentials, a duplicate of the preceding days. The undertone was one of quiet confidence and aside from the gyrations of a few specialties, the advance was almost continuous.

The movement focussed largely around the steel and kindred shores, receiving its greatest momentum from the address of Albert H. Gary, before the American Iron and Steel institute, in which he predicted prosperous conditions for that industry.

United States Steel rose steadily to 107, a gain of four points, and its maximum of the year, the independent group gaining two to six points. Motives which depend on the trend of the steel market, also recorded many substantial advances extending to 15 points in Chandler.

Trails were among the leaders in point of activity and strength, at one period of the session, although their rise was comparatively moderate, but shipments and oils denoted further selling for profits. Metals, leather and obscures were more restricted in their movements. Sales, 1,350,000 shares.

Bonds as a whole were firm, but some of the speculative rails made moderate concessions on small offerings. Total sales, per value, $10,875,000. (The United States bonds were unaltered on call.)

WEEK IN WOOL
BOSTON, May 23.—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say:
"The wool market has at length struck a steadier pace and while values are firm for all good wools, there is no hysteria apparent in the market and wools are now being sold on their merits more than at any time since the gemistice was signed. Some of the

Produce

The handling of the rapidly increasing output of valley orchards & taking most of the time and attention of local wholesale produce dealers. Large quantities of apricots are being shipped out by express from Phoenix, Glendale and Maricopa. Next week the fruit will be shipped out in carloads to California and other states where the crop is not yet ready.

Tomatoes and cherries are coming in from California in splendid condition, the price on both staples gradually becoming lower.

Heavy rains in California yesterday have set back the strawberry output, and will cause a scarcity of that delicacy on the local market today. Local dealers aver that there will hardly be enough on hand to supply the demand.

Acar of netted gem potatoes is expected to arrive today from Idaho. Shipments of winter crimson rhubarb were received yesterday. This product is of exceptionally fancy quality.

BRADSTREET'S REPORT

NEW YORK, May 23.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

"Something like a shifting of activity is revealed in the trade and industrial reports this week. Cool, rainy weather and the lateness of some of the spring planted crops, especially corn and cotton, seem to be more stressed at the smaller markets, but increased activity, strength and confidence is revealed at the larger centers, while in instances where weather conditions have been unfavorable and seasonable temperatures have prevailed, the trend has been a very cheerful one. On balance, jobbing and retail trade reports show a slight ebbing of activity and collections are a shade lower than last week."

Weekly bank clearings, $7,739,625,000.
